Seriously Shot by Unknown Man

As a result of a shooting affray which took place Wednesday night Tom Bowles, of Cynthiana, well known in this city, was seriously injured by a man whose identity has not yet been disclosed.

The shooting took place near the corner of Tenth and Pleasant streets about midnight, while Bowles was going in the direction of the Louisville and Nashville depot. Four men were in the party that did the shooting and after the shot was fired all of them ran down Tenth street and disappeared.

The bullet from the revolver took effect in Bowles' right side, passing between two of his ribs, narrowly missing his right lung and lodged in his back. He was taken to the Fordham hotel where Dr. George Rankin was summoned to attend his injuries.

According to the statement of Bowles he was walking in the direction of the depot, having left the saloon of John Johnson at the corner of Tenth and Main at twelve o'clock. He said that four men, all of whom were unknown to him, walking in the same direction passed him on the pavement and when a few feet in front one of the number turned, drew a revolver, and fired point blank at him.

He said that no remarks were exchanged between he and the men and the shooting was without provocation. Several persons in the neighborhood heard the shot but as there had been a large amount of fireworks exploded in that locality, nothing was thought of the report, and it was supposed it was a cannon cracker or a giant torpedo. Pedestrians passing in that direction shortly after the shooting found Bowles suffering intensely from the wound, and he was taken to the Fordham Hotel.

Mrs. Bowles, his wife, was notified of the shooting yesterday morning and she came to Paris on the early train to be with her husband until he is able to be removed to his home in Cynthiana.

While the wound is in a dangerous locality the nature of it is such as to cause little alarm. Unless complications arise he will soon recover from the injury.

This is the second serious accident Bowles has sustained in the past year. Recently he fell from a train at Lair Station striking on his face and destroying the sight of his right eye. He was confined in the hospital at Cynthiana for several weeks as a result of this accident.

A very vague description of the men who were in the party a member of which did the shooting was given the police by Bowles and an effort is being made to locate the guilty man.

Heavy Mails During Christmas.

The local postoffice had a record run during the holidays and incoming mails Tuesday piled in hundreds of packages. Every incoming train added to the congestion and the clerks and carriers had all they could do in preparing the mail for delivery.

To relieve the congestion Postmaster Moore had the office open Sunday for one hour and on Tuesday evening the windows were opened for the receipt and delivery of mail. A large number of the patrons availed themselves of this opportunity to get their Christmas packages early.

All of this city carriers, with the exception of the mounted carrier, were compelled to have assistants to deliver the Christmas mail, so great was the volume. According to a statement of Postmaster Moore, the mail this Christmas was the largest in the history of the local office.

Local Sports Want Badger Fight.

It was rumored yesterday afternoon that a number of local sporting men will prevail upon Mayor J. T. Hinton and Humane Officer S. E. Borland to permit a badger fight to be pulled off in this city on Tuesday night, December 31.

It is said the fight will be held in the building recently leased by Yerkes & Prichard and will mark the opening of their new garage on January 1. The proprietors of the new garage have given their consent for the use of their building for the occasion, provided however, there will be no police interference, and that the fight will be conducted on the quiet.

Thomas Buckner, of near this city, who is well known in sporting circles, is said to have made a proposition to pit one of his champion hounds against the badger, and is willing to wager a large sum that he will come out the victor, if an amicable agreement can be reached regarding the selection of the officials to put on the fight.

Interest in the fight is said to be at its height and Buckner's dog is said to have a strong following who will back the animal with any amount of cash. The holding of such an event was prompted when Rudolph Davis received a few days ago an immense badger from Laurel county, where he has hunted this season.

An admission fee of 25 cents will be charged at the door and the proceeds following the deduction for expenses will be donated to the Paris Hospital fund.

LIGHT OF OTHER DAYS

By O. V. NETTLESHIP.

"I don't see what in the world we shall ever do with all our things," sighed Mrs. Hemming when she and her husband decided, after much discussion, to move from their house, which was too lonesomely big now that the children had all gone away to homes of their own. "Our apartment won't begin to hold our furniture, to say nothing of all the things we have stored in the attic."

"Pick out the furniture you need and then turn a second-hand man loose in the house," suggested Hemming.

"But, Charles, you wouldn't want me to sell all our old keepsakes, would you?"

"Most assuredly. What earthly use to any one are a lot of old books, vases and pictures that no one ever looks at except at house cleaning time. Do they do anybody any good?"

"No, I don't suppose they do," reluctantly admitted Mrs. Hemming, "but I hate to part with some of them."

"That's just sentiment, my dear. The fact is, it will be a relief to you when you are rid of all that old lumber."

"Perhaps I could select just a few of the oldest things and we could put them in the storeroom of the apartment. You know there's a nice big storeroom, Charles."

"Yes, I know it, Harriet, and I'm planning to keep my golf clubs there and my fishing tackle. So if you please, we won't fill up that storeroom with a lot of useless trash."

After the second-hand dealer's visit Hemming said to his wife: "I hope you were sufficiently strong-minded to let everything in the attic go."

"Well, nearly everything," answered Mrs. Hemming. "There are a few little articles that it seems a shame to sell, such as—"

"Never mind enumerating them, Harriet. I shouldn't be interested in a list of crippled furniture or ancient photograph albums."

"But what I thought of keeping was the two old—"

"Now, Harriet, we decided to get rid of all our old stuff. Don't let Hankins leave a thing tomorrow when he comes with his wagons."

When the wagons drove away loaded with furniture and bric-a-brac, mostly of a peculiarly artistic period, Mrs. Hemming laughed away her regrets. "Charles was right," she said to herself. "It would have been silly to keep that ugly trumpery."

About a fortnight after they were settled in their apartment, Hemming came home one afternoon carrying a large box.

"I have a little present for you, Harriet," he said with boyish pleasure. "You'll be surprised when you see what it is. I was passing Devlin's antique shop this morning when some things in the windows caught my eye and took me back about 40 years to the time when I was courting a certain pretty girl in her grandmother's best parlor, which was lighted with green glass lamps. There, my dear, what do you think of these?" He triumphantly drew from the box two large green glass lamps of old-fashioned shape and decoration. "Do they make you think of anything, Harriet?"

"Yes, they do—they make me think of a lot of things," she answered. "How much did you pay for them?"

"Devlin let me have them cheap. You see, one of his collectors picked them up for little or nothing in an old, out-of-the-way Vermont farmhouse where antiques aren't appreciated, so he sold me the pair for $20. Really, Harriet, I'd have given $30 if he'd asked it."

"Well, I'm glad he didn't ask it," replied Mrs. Hemming, "for I sold these same lamps to Hankins three weeks ago for $1 apiece."

"Great Scott! Are you sure they're the same lamps?"

"Of course I'm sure. I'd know them if you bought them in Egypt. I was brought up under those lamps."

"A dollar apiece! And I snapped them up for $20 the pair!" mused Hemming, trying not to look sheepish.

"Yes, and I'm glad you did," responded Mrs. Hemming. "For they were what I hated to part with most. I wanted to keep them and I'm awfully glad to have them back."

Turk With Wife Would Be Safe.

Montenegro is the only country in Europe where a wife may be regarded as a perambulating life insurance policy. The Montenegrin is intensely chivalrous. Respect for women is carried to such a pitch that although the very word Turk affects the native as a red rag does a bull, yet a Turkish traveler finding himself in the wilds of Montenegro would be absolutely safe if he were accompanied by his wife.

Life is patriarchal. There are no towns, only villages. There are villages of half a dozen houses, in each of which three and sometimes four generations of a family live together. Travels, in spite of this patriarchal life, find the men gloomy and taciturn, with their eyes open for treachery and their right hand on their revolver.—London Daily Mirror.

Make Living by "Poking Fires."

One occupation by which a score of Britons are said to earn their livelihood is that of "poking fires." By the rabbinical law no Jew is allowed to kindle or mend any fire on the Sabbath, and in certain places in England where Jews are very numerous this prohibition makes it necessary that persons shall be employed from sunset on Friday to the same hour on Saturday in going from house to house lighting fires and lamps and attending them.

WOMEN TAKE NOTICE!

A man cannot understand the torture and suffering many women endure uncomplainingly. If the majority of men suffered as much pain and endured with patience the weakening sicknesses that most women do, they would ask for immediate sympathy and look for a quick cure.

Many women have been saved from a life of misery and suffering by turning to the right remedy—Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—a remedy which is safe to take because containing no narcotics, alcohol or injurious ingredients. It is an alternative extract of roots, made with pure glycerin, and first given to the public by that famous Specialist in the diseases of women—Dr. R. V. Pierce, of the Leavitts' Hotel and Surgical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y.

Mrs. H. H. Hessemer.

Mrs. H. H. Hessemer, of Lincoln, Neb., 520 "C" St., writes: "I sent a testimonial with much pleasure so that some suffering woman may know the true worth of your remedy. I was a great sufferer from female troubles, but after taking one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which a friend advised me to take, I found myself very much improved. After taking three more bottles, and using two boxes of Dr. Pierce's Lotion Tablets, I found myself on the road to recovery. I was in poor health for five years but now I am cured."

"I hope all women suffering from female weakness will give Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription a fair trial."

Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules.

Flanders "20" Roadster, $750

Don't be alarmed if somebody tells you you can buy an automobile for less money than the $750 Studebaker-Flanders "20." You can, but you better not. The Flanders "20" corresponds point by point with the best and highest priced cars sold. Cheaper cars at every vital point are built on ideas long ago discarded for good cars. Don't take our word for it. Make comparisons and see.

The Studebaker-Flanders "20" is a marvel—a high grade modern car at a low price. If you pay less you buy much less. And the cheaper car today will cost you far more in the long run. The competing car isn't sold which the Studebaker Corporation, the greatest automobile manufacturers in the world, couldn't reproduce for less money; but we won't build a cheap car, because the name "Studebaker" means the best for your money.

If you are content with a car that runs today and dies tomorrow, don't buy the $750 Flanders "20." It will wear for years. Remember this—the Studebaker-Flanders "20" will outwear 2 to 1 any other car under $1100 and give you double satisfaction, confidence and comfort into the bargain.

Restaurant Keeper Wounds Negro.

Roy Parker, one of the proprietors of the restaurant at the corner of Tenth and Pleasant streets, conducted by Browning & Parker, shot and seriously wounded Brent, a negro, in front of his place of business about seven o'clock Tuesday night.

Brent, who resides in the negro suburb of Claysville, it is alleged, went into the restaurant Tuesday evening and asked the price of an oyster stew. On being told he became very abusive toward Parker and invited him in the street, saying his business was robbing negroes and hurling vile epithets at the white man.

Parker, it is said, went to the front door after the negro who is said to have struck at him with a pair of brass knuckles. The former warned off all the blows, but the negro being of strong physique, was crowding him closely when he drew a 32 automatic revolver from his pocket and fired.

The bullet took effect in Brent's left breast, a few inches above the heart, ranging up and passing out through the shoulder blade. He was taken to the office of Drs. Kenney and Rankin where his injuries were dressed and he was sent to his home.

Parker was placed under arrest after the shooting by Patrolman James Moreland, but was released on bond.

Mr. Boardman, who for a number of years was one of the most prominent farmers of that section of the county, had been in declining health for some months. Up to the time of his late illness he was unusually active for one of his years, but lately has been confined to his home with illness.

Mr. Boardman is survived by his wife and two daughters, Mrs. Hiram Ewing, of Carlisle, and Mrs. P. L. McClure, of Plum, and four sons, Messrs. J. U. Boardman, of Paris, J. W. Boardman, of Mt. Sterling, and R. H. and J. W. Boardman, of Little Rock.

The funeral services will be held this morning the cortege leaving the family residence at ten o'clock. The services will be held at the grave in the North Middletown cemetery conducted by Rev. J. W. Ligon, of the Christian church of that place.

MATRIMONIAL.

—A marriage license was issued Wednesday to Mr. A. K. Swatts and Miss Emma Woodhead.

—Mr. John E. Wigginton and Miss Josie A. Patrick, of Fayette county, were married Tuesday by Rev. E. M. Lightfoot.

—Mr. Herman Collins and Miss Hazel McClannahan secured a marriage license yesterday morning and were united in marriage in the private office of County Clerk Paton in the court house, Rev. E. M. Lightfoot, of the Baptist church, officiating.

JEFFERSON-FITZGERALD.

—Mr. James W. Fitzgerald and Miss Georgia T. Jefferson, both of this county, were quietly married Tuesday evening, at 6 o'clock, at the residence of the officiating minister, Elder W. E. Ellis, on Twelfth street.

CLAY-MACEY.

—Ramey Macey and Miss Laura Clay, of Lexington, were married at 8:30 o'clock Monday afternoon in the parlors of the First Christian church at Louisville, with the Rev. Dr. E. L. Powell, the pastor, officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. John Ireland, formerly of Paris. Mr. Macey is a son of Gus Macey, the trotting horse driver, and though a young man has driven and handled a number of famous horses. [He was a jockey for three years.]

The young people believed they were taking their relatives and friends by surprise by going to Louisville, but that both families knew of the plans they had made. While not an elopement, since the marriage had the sanction of both families, the runaway trip to Louisville had the same element of romance.

Mr. and Mrs. Macey returned to Lexington Tuesday and will be with the bridegroom's parents until after January 1, when they will go to Denver, Col., where Mr. Macey will winter his stable of horses.

DEVINE-McNEAL.

—The marriage of Miss Bee Devine to Mr. Hugh McNeal was celebrated quietly at the home of the bride's parents in Danville Monday afternoon. The announcement of the marriage of Miss Devine will come as a surprise to her friends in this city, where she attended school, graduating from the Bourbon Female College, a member of the class of 1912.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Devine, of near Danville, and is a pretty and accomplished young woman. Mr. McNeal holds an important position with the Queen and Crescent railroad with headquarters at Danville, and is a popular and promising young business man.

Immediately after the ceremony the couple left Danville for Richmond, Va., where they will spend the holidays and returning will make their home in the former city.

Christmas Cantata.

The beautiful Christmas cantata, "The Angelic Choir," will be given at the Christian church next Sunday night by the choir under the direction of Mr. Morehead.

The choir will be assisted by the following well known singers in the solo parts: Dr. and Mrs. Fithian, Messrs. Prentice Lancaster, Wallace Clark and Ray Clark, Mrs. Owen Davis, Miss Flora Hill and Mrs. Fannie Belle Sutherland, with Miss Clara Belle O'Neal at the organ. The preliminary service will be as follows:

Reading of the Scripture.
Prayer.
Appropriate remarks by Elder W. E. Ellis.

Cousins Engage in Pistol Duel.

In a pistol duel which took place at the gas works in Covington Monday evening, J. H. Fitzwater was shot and probably fatally wounded by Richard Medlin, formerly of Paris. Fitzwater is in a Covington Hospital in a critical condition while Medlin is suffering from a wound in the right arm. The trouble, it is said, had its inception when Fitzwater paid too much attention to Medlin's wife. The men are cousins.

Monday evening Fitzwater put in his appearance at the Covington gas works, where Medlin is employed. The latter was in the office and when he started to descend the steps to the street Fitzwater appeared. Both men drew their revolvers and began firing. Medlin continued down the stairs, with his gun in his hand while Fitzwater fired several times. Suddenly the latter dropped to the ground while blood flowed freely.

He was rushed to a hospital where it was found he was suffering from two bullet wounds in the left lung. Medlin suffered severely from the wound in his arm. He was arrested and placed under $1,000 bond which was signed by his employer who said that Fitzwater had been around the works all afternoon and started the trouble.

Fitzwater, it is alleged, was looking for Medlin, and to protect his employee the superintendent of the gas company had a policeman stationed at the plant. Notwithstanding this precaution the duel resulted when the men met.

Medlin's examining trial was set for yesterday but owing to the condition of Fitzwater, the case was continued for a week.

The trouble is said to have started from Fitzwater being too attentive to Medlin's wife, and it is also said the two ran away from Medlin's home several weeks ago. Fitzwater deserted a wife and several small children.

Medlin formerly resided in Paris where he was employed as a fireman in the gas works of the Paris Gas and Electric Co. About three years ago he moved with his family to Covington where he has since resided.

There were more than 2,500 birds on display at the show and $1,500 in premiums were awarded. "Lady Show Me," the champion egg layer, attracted a great deal of attention.

Wrong Man Again.

Tom Smith, a negro arrested here Monday by Patrolman Link, and who was taken to Winchester Tuesday night by Sheriff W. O. Brock, was released Tuesday after several persons who knew the negro who is wanted for the murder of Sheriff George M. Hart stated he was not the man.

Smith was arrested at the Louisville and Nashville passenger depot in this city Monday morning and his description tallied so closely with that of Sheppard alias "Big Boy," that the Winchester officials were at once notified of the capture, and Sheriff Brock came to Paris on the afternoon train, returning with the negro that night.

Smith said his home was at Nashville, Tenn., and when arrested said he had been working at Escondido, this county, for several days. He was released after John L. Dillard, of the construction firm of Sturm & Dillard, who knew Sheppard well, said that he was not the man.

Christmas Gifts for Convicts.

All records in South Carolina for the number of pardons granted on one day were broken Tuesday when by order of Governor Blease eighty convicts confined in the State penitentiary and serving on chain gangs throughout the State were liberated, their pardons being granted as Christmas presents. Included in the list are prisoners convicted of offenses ranging from first degree murder to minor infractions of the law.

Fire Alarm.

An alarm of fire Tuesday evening about seven o'clock took the fire department to the residence of Mr. L. Saloshin on Pleasant street where soot burning in a chimney frightened the family. Continues to Improve.

Dr. Louis Frank, of Louisville, who is at a Cleveland, O., hospital where he recently underwent an operation, is improving rapidly according to reports that have been received by relatives in this city. Dr. Frank is under the care of Dr. George W. Crile, a former pupil. Since the operation Dr. Frank has shown a steady improvement and the physician in charge declares that his ultimate recovery is certain.

Mr. George M. Hill received a commission from Mr. J. Q. Ward Wednesday, appointing him as State Fish and Game Warden. The appointment came as a Christmas gift and was quite a surprise to Mr. Hill. Best Business Ever.

I want to express my appreciation to the public for its most liberal patronage to my store during the holiday season and take this method of so doing. I want to say that during my 35 years of business experience in Paris I have never had so large a business. I hope that every customer was pleased and if anything was not just as it was represented will take pleasure in "making good." I want to live up to my slogan "If it comes from Winters it is right." I wish every customer and friend a happy and prosperous New Year.

Respectfully,
A. J. WINTERS.

Merchants Pleased.

Local merchants are well pleased with the sale of Christmas goods, in fact every store sold out clean, as one merchant expressed it. The people seemed to have plenty of money and let it go with a free hand.

We are also told that the class of goods sold was of a better grade and more expensive than heretofore. It was also noticeable that the merchants who did the money. The merchants of Paris are liberal advertisers and the News carried advertising for at least eighty per cent of the business houses and we are glad to know that they received good results. We heartily thank them for their liberal patronage and wish them all a thriving and profitable trade for the coming year of 1913. Another noticeable fact was that there was little shopping done out of town.

No town in the state furnishes a better class of stores than Paris and the goods bought of them can be relied on and if it is not just right they make it right. Buy at home all the time. Read the home papers and for the bargains Paris stores are offering and you will profit thereby.

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the residence on the farm of Squire L. J. Fretwell, two miles from Paris on the North Middletown pike Wednesday morning about nine o'clock. The building was a frame structure and was occupied by Mr. B. T. Mattox and family, who rented the farm.

When the fire was discovered the entire roof was a mass of flames and before assistance arrived the building had been almost consumed. Mr. Mattox lost practically all of his household effects.

The loss on the building is said to be about $1,500. Squire Fretwell carried insurance to the amount of $700 on the property.

EAST COURT, PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION.

THE great East Court at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition is designed for pageantry surpassing the famous Durbur of India. It will constitute a suitable setting for oriental or modern drama upon a colossal scale. From a huge staircase or from the tops of its encircling walls the visitor to this "Court of Joyousness" will be enabled to witness the pageants that will be a feature of the exposition. The main tower of the court will contain a great pipe organ, with echo organs in the smaller towers; within the center of the court will lie a basin containing groupings of classic statuary, dancing figures, fauns, satyrs and nymphs. Electric scintillators will play upon fountains at night. Tropical shrubs and flowers will contrast with the sterner effect of the colonnades, statuary and facades of the court. In its architecture the East Court, which will lie among the main group of exhibit palaces, will resemble the oriental phase of the Spanish-Moorish architecture.

SERVICE BUILDING, FIRST STRUCTURE TO BE ERECTED BY THE PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION.

BIDS have been let for the Service Building, the first structure to be erected upon the Panama-Pacific International Exposition site. The structure will be three stories in height and will be occupied by the exposition force during the building of the great fair. It will be 150 feet square with an interior court of 58 by 104 feet. The surrounding grounds will be picturesque with flowers, fountains and statuary. The first floor will be occupied by the auditor, treasurer, railroad exhibits, admissions and concessions, police, information, telegraph and emergency hospital departments; the second floor will be occupied by the architectural, mechanical, electrical and civil engineering departments; the third floor will be used for blue printing, photograph and color studios. It is expected that the building will be completed by the first of the year.

FINE ARTS PALACE, PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION.

THE Fine Arts Palace will be one of the most beautiful structures in its architecture as well as in its location at the Panama-Pacific Exposition. The building, 600 feet in length from north to south, will be semicircular in form and will have as its central motive a low dome arising from a unique base. Forming the foreground will be a great lagoon surrounded on three sides by a sunken garden, which will be designed in romantic Italian architecture. Here will be assembled the notable paintings of history.

HER STRONG REMARKS

By FRANK ROUSELETT.

"Good night," said the young man. But he made no move from the far corner of the divan where he was seated.

The young woman sitting with her head obstinately turned from him moved it back perhaps half an inch. "What are you going for?" she demanded.

"Well," said the young man, "I gathered from your last set of remarks that you could breathe more freely if the atmosphere of the room were not contaminated by my presence—that there would be more space to turn around if the place were not cluttered up by undesirable commodities. In short, I rather figured it out that it was a hint for me to leave!"

"I'm sure," said the young woman, "that I don't want you to stay if you'd rather go! I wouldn't keep you for a minute against your will. It certainly shows when you eagerly seize upon the simplest remarks and twist them about to suit your own convenience that you are looking for a chance to escape! Don't let me detain you, I beg!"

"Oh, you aren't detaining me," the young man assured her. "Before I go I'd like to point out that you are in error when you call your remarks simple. They were not. On the contrary, they were exceedingly forceful and emphatic."

"While those remarks were clear in meaning they were complicated in design—you started on one topic and included sixteen others in the same sentence—so I am rather proud than otherwise that I was able to make out precisely what you meant. It proves to me that I have at least brains enough to come in out of the rain. I rather doubted this at first in the face of what you said. But I couldn't go away and leave you laboring under the delusion that you had something to say that was entirely ineffective and simple. What you said hit the spot!"

"I don't know what you are talking about!" said the young woman. "I suppose you think you are funny!" "Funny!" the young man echoed in hollow tones. "What do you think I am? Do I impress you as the sort of person who would dance and sing at his own funeral? Why should I be mirthful at having received my walking papers?"

"I hate slang," observed the young woman. "Don't be silly. I never said anything like that."

The young man shook his head in a resigned manner. "Don't draw out the agony for me, Genevieve," he said. "It's cruelty to attempt to smother the blow. Having given it, why attempt to feed me chocolate drops? As I said some time ago, good night!"

"I wish you wouldn't be so foolish," said the young woman, turning clear around toward him. "If you go home now, at nine o'clock, mother and every one else will want to know what on earth is the matter! So will that Spree girl across the street. I can see her in their front window now. She'll spread it all over the neighborhood in no time at all that we've quarreled!"

"Why fear the truth?" inquired the young man. "I suppose sooner or later it will dawn on the people that I don't come here any more and—"

"Do you mean to say that you aren't ever coming to see me again?" the young woman broke in, sharply.

"Why should I?" asked the young man, resignedly. "It never would occur to me that I was welcome after having been told that I wasn't!"

"I didn't tell you that."

"You may have clothed the idea in graceful language," conceded the young man, "but it was there with both feet, all right! It is plain to be seen that you're tired of me and it has all been a mistake. I apologize for hypnotizing you into engaging yourself to me and I regret the amount of the electric light bills that I have piled up for your father. I will say nothing about my ruined life because that is a subject that would not interest you. I think it is time to say good—"

"I never in my life," interrupted the young woman with indignation, "saw a person twist things the way you do. I didn't say anything at all!"

"Yes, you did—plenty!"

"Well," said the young woman anxiously, "if I did I didn't mean it, really!"

"Well, that's different," conceded the young man. "Can it be that you don't want me to go?"

"Of course not—foolish! That Spree girl across the street would be perfectly sure to hear of it."

"Really," said the young man, moving over close to her, "that Spree girl is an angel, since she has been kind enough to fix up our quarrel for us."—Chicago Daily News.

Looking Upward.

Is not this little paragraph from Maeterlinck worth pondering; nay, more, is it not worth acting upon?

"We must learn to live in a beauty, an earnestness, that shall become a part of ourselves. In life there is no creature so degraded but knows full well which is the noble and beautiful thing that he should do; but this noble, beautiful thing is not strong enough within him. It is this invisible but abstract strength that it must be our endeavor to increase first of all. And this strength increases only in those who have acquired the habit of resting more frequently than others upon summits where life absorbs the soul, upon heights whence we see that every act and every thought is infallibly bound up with something great and immortal."—Chicago Evening Post.

PAPYRI TAKEN FROM EGYPT

London.—The numerous large and valuable rolls of historical papyri recently discovered by Robert De Rustafjaell, F. R. G. S., have now been brought to England. Mr. De Rustafjaell has allowed an inspection of the rolls, which are certain to create considerable interest in the scientific world. They were unearthed by a fellah while sinking the foundation of his mud-hut near a temple of the Ptolemies in Upper Egypt, and are of the Greco-Egyptian period.

There are seventeen of them. They are about twelve inches wide, all closely rolled, and some are as much as four inches in diameter. The size of the largest probably will be found to be about fifty feet, which would be a record length for a roll of papyri. The rolls probably are the most nearly perfect ever found.

"It should be borne in mind," said Mr. De Rustafjaell, "that Manetho, the Greek historian, who lived probably about the time that these manuscripts were written, gave us a history of Egypt, and the only framework we possess of the order and number of dynastic reigns."

"With the discovery of the Rosetta Stone we obtained the long-lost key to the language of ancient Egyptians. We think that we are justified in anticipating further and possibly more startling revelations from these manuscripts."

Mr. De Rustafjaell had the good fortune about four years ago to light upon the find of papyri which were published in an interesting book called "The Light of Egypt." At the time they were popularly referred to as "Further New Sayings of Christ." One volume only, however, dealt with the subject. It proved to be Saint Bartholomew's apocryphal narrative by Christ of his descent into hell. This is the only authentic literature extant on which the Litany is based in the passage referring to the descent into hell.

USE LIQUOR TO QUENCH FIRE

Guests at Coney Island Pour "Fire Water" on Burning Paper Bits and Save Structure.

New York.—Wine and beer were substituted for water in extinguishing a fire that threatened for a time to sweep through Stauch's restaurant and pavilion, one of the largest buildings at Coney Island.

The fire was started by a lighted match thrown into a pile of confetti. Almost instantly the flames leaped to the ceiling, igniting the decorations. If it had not been for the prompt work of Captain Thomas H. Murphy of the Coney Island police station the fire might have resulted seriously.

Every year Barney Klobloch, manager for Mr. Stauch, gives his confetti dance. There was an unusually large attendance at the dance when the fire started. It was estimated that there were 3,000 persons in the hall. A balcony circles the dance hall and it was thronged when the fire started. At the several hundred tables below were assembled men and women in gay attire.

When the cry of fire was raised and the shaft of flame jumped toward the ceiling, everybody in the hall emptied the contents of their glasses on the fire.

When the downpour of wine came from the balcony Klobloch and many who were dancing were drenched.

PLANS CONCILIATION COURT

Cleveland Ready to Try Scheme to Reduce Costs of Small Suits—Mall to Aid.

Cleveland, O.—Judges of the municipal court, who have been considering ways and means of lowering the costs of court procedure, adopted a resolution urging the creation of a "conciliation court." This court will, it is understood, start its work January 1, 1913. All claims of less than $50, garnishments, attachments, replevins and similar suits, will be heard in the "conciliation court," which will be presided over by a special judge, to be appointed by Chief Justice McGannon. The new court will attempt a settlement of the claims which are presented to it without the institution of formal proceedings. Costs of suits which will be considered in the court will be greatly decreased.

Service of subpoenas by registered mail was also discussed by the judges as a method of further lowering the cost of legal proceedings.

FINDS ANGLE WORM THINKS

Professor Yerkes of Harvard Convinced After Making Experiments on Crawlers.

Boston, Mass.—From a series of experiments conducted in his psychological laboratory Professor Yerkes of Harvard has become convinced that an angleworm can think. Knowing that an angleworm will always crawl out of a lighted place into a dark one, the professor put a worm into a glass dish in which were two dark holes. The right hand hole was an ordinary earth cavity. The left-hand one, however, contained an electric battery, the object of which was to give the worm a mild shock in case it entered.

After a few trials the worm learned its lesson and could be counted on to turn always to the right when it was put into the dish.

Mrs. L. T. Vinton visited relatives in Paris from Tuesday until Wednesday.

Miss Fannie Burroughs entertained a number of the young people with an elaborate dining Tuesday.

Mr. A. C. Ball, Jr., of St. Louis, Mo., is spending the holidays with his parents, Squire and Mrs. A. C. Ball.

Mr. Stanley Layson, of Rose, Canada, is spending the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Layson.

Mr. J. G. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. U. S. G. Pepper, Mrs. Margaret Powell, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McClintock, each entertained with elaborate dinners Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. K. R. Vaught will leave today for their home at Parker, Ind., after having spent part of the holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Judy.

The Christmas tree at the Methodist church Tuesday night was heavily laden with remembrances for members of the Sunday school. Rev. J. D. Redd, pastor of the church, made an excellent Santa Claus. The program by the little folks, which preceded the distribution of presents was good. Miss Alma Duke Jones, organist at the church and sister, Miss Lucy Jones, organist for the Sunday school, each received a well filled purse.

One of the most pleasant events of the holiday season was the family reunion of Mrs. Belle Taylor with her children and grandchildren. All of the family was present except one son, Richard, of Chicago, Ill. It was a beautiful sight, long to be remembered to behold the family circle as they assembled around the festive board with the grandmother, who is not only well preserved, but an active business woman, and under present conditions bids fair to enjoy many events of the kind yet to come, at the head. The menu consisted of all the good things of the market and was elaborately and bountifully served. Mrs. Taylor was the oldest member of the board and her beautiful little granddaughter, Katherine Vaught

Judy, who was a Christmas present in the family three years ago, was the youngest. Among those present outside of the immediate household were Dr. and Mrs. S. H. Creighton, and little son, Taylor, of Indianapolis, Ind., and Mr. and Mrs. K. R. Vaught, of Parker, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. K. B. Hutchings, Lexington, Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Judy and daughter, Miss Belle Taylor Judy, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Judy, son and daughter, William Thomas and Katherine Vaught.

Miss Hazel Kerr is visiting her sister, Miss Jessie Kerr, near Maysville.

Mrs. E. T. Beeding and son, Mr. Wadell Beeding, of Lexington, are visiting relatives here.

Mrs. Jennie Neal and son, Mr. B. A. Neal, left Thursday for Florida to spend the remainder of the winter.

Mr. Hamman Redd, of Pikeville, was the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Redd, Wednesday and Thursday.

A meeting of Amity Lodge No. 40, F. and A. M., will be held this evening at six o'clock. All are requested to be present.

Mrs. D. M. Hurst, of Ewing, and Miss Judith Beeding, of Cincinnati, spent Christmas with their sister, Mrs. S. H. Endicott.

Miss Dorothy Deed will leave Saturday for Birmingham, Ala., to resume her duties in the graded school after having spent Christmas at home.

The little folks of the Presbyterian church gave a light drama Monday evening entitled "The Orphans' Christmas Eve." The entertainment was good and the parts were well taken. Notwithstanding the fact that a snowstorm was raging they were greeted with a large audience. The coaching was done by Miss Elizabeth Ingels. It was her first experience in this work and her results were marvelous. She was given a surprise at its close when she was asked by one of the young ladies to come forward and was presented with a handsome lunch tray, which was delivered in a neat little speech for her untiring efforts. Then came the most interesting feature of the evening for the children. Santa Claus entered heavily laden with good things for the members of the Sunday school after which all went home happy.

Sell a Good One.

Matlack & Shropshire, the noted saddle horse fanciers of Winchester, closed a deal last week whereby the United States Government becomes the owner of the great stallion Fair Acre King. The price was not given out, on account of it being a large one, and Uncle Sam's representatives fear that it will cause the price of other good ones in the Blue Grass, which they are now negotiating for, to be boosted.

Another Audit of Insurance Books.

W. H. Ellis, of New Castle, an expert accountant, is in Frankfort to make a thorough investigation of the records of the Insurance Department under the administration of former Insurance Commissioner C. W. Bell. Neither the Insurance Department nor Mr. Bell were satisfied with the examination made by State Inspector and Examiner Goodpaster, who reported a delinquency of $20,000 during Bell's administration. Goodpaster's report, however, did not specify whether the delinquency was due the State from insurance companies for licenses and fees or had been collected by the insurance department and not turned into the treasury. It will take Mr. Ellis some time to make the examination as it will cover a period of four years and several months.

Musical Recital.

Music lovers in this city will learn with pleasure of the approaching recital to be given by Mr. Jules Falk, of Philadelphia, Pa., the accomplished violinist and cousin of Mr. Louis Wollstein, of this city.

The recital will be given in this city on the evening of January 21, and will be under the auspices of the Epworth League of the Methodist church. With Mr. Falk will be an accompanist. Mr. Falk will be remembered as having assisted in the musical program at the recent wedding of Miss Birdie Wollstein to Mr. David Baerach in this city, and his art created quite a charm for those who heard him on this occasion. He is a musician of rare talent and the music lovers of this city have in store for them a treat that is exceptional.

Paris' Fire Chief Exonerated.

Henry McGinley, chief of the Paris fire department, against whom charges were preferred several weeks ago and which have been under the course of investigation by the members of the fire committee of the City Council, was exonerated in a report presented to the council at its meeting last night.

The report recites that after investigating the affair fully it was found that the charges that McGinley appropriated certain articles of the city for his own use were not only false but absolutely without foundation. It is as follows:

"To the Mayor and Board of Council of the City of Paris, Ky.

"Gentlemen—Some time ago certain charges and statements affecting the conduct and honesty of Henry McGinley, chief of the fire department, were made, said charges being set out in articles appearing in the various newspapers published in this city.

"These charges were to the effect that Mr. McGinley had appropriated certain property belonging to the city and converting it to his own use. When these matters were made public the chairman of the engine and hose committee brought them, to the attention of this body and that committee was ordered to make an investigation of the whole affair. That order has been carried into effect and we, the undersigned members of the above mentioned committee, submit the following report:

"After a careful, thorough and painstaking investigation of the charges that Henry McGinley had appropriated to his own use certain property of the city of Paris, we are of the opinion that such charges were not only false but absolutely without foundation, and we hereby exonerate Mr. McGinley from any and all charges of wrongdoing. In justice to Mr. McGinley, who has been a faithful and efficient employee of the city for many years, we suggest that this report, when adopted be spread upon the minutes and published in every newspaper in Paris so that his vindication may obtain the same publicity that the charges did.

"Respectfully submitted,
"D. C. PARRISH,
"W. T. BROOKS,
"Committee."

When the report was presented to the council and adopted a motion was made to suspend J. W. King, a member of the department, who, it is alleged, preferred the charges against McGinley, but by a vote of four to three he was sustained in his present capacity. The council elected Mr. William Collins city electrician to serve in the position made vacant by the resignation of Chas. Thomas several weeks ago. Mr. Collins has been acting by order of the fire committee since December 15. He was formerly connected with the East Tennessee Telephone Co.

Mr. Catesby Spears, recently appointed a member of the board of trustees of the W. W. Massie Memorial Hospital, presented a communication to the council to the effect that owing to business arrangements which kept him in Canada a greater portion of his time he would be forced to decline the honor, and Mayor Hinton appointed Prof. W. L. Verkes, of this city, in his stead.

Will Have Celebration.

With a determined effort towards raising a fund with which to build an annex to the W. W. Massie Memorial Hospital the colored people of Paris and Bourbon county will hold a great emancipation celebration in this city on Wednesday, January 1.

They have arranged to hold at the St. Paul Methodist Episcopal church a "Benefit Memorial" or "Semi-Centennial Celebration of the Emancipation Proclamation."

The colored people of Paris and the county have been untiring in their efforts to raise the fund of $15,000 with which to build the colored annex and already a goodly sum has been subscribed, and they plan to raise the remainder of the money at the Emancipation celebration.

On the night of January 1, after the sum of $1,500 has been raised it is planned to have an immense bonfire to celebrate their achievement. The following program for the occasion has been arranged:

10 a. m.—Parade by the public school children of Paris and county at large. Parade will start from the city school on Seventh street. Exercises at the church at 10:30 by representatives of the various schools. Music by city school. Address by Prof. W. H. Evans. Each child is asked to bring an offering for the children's collection for the Annex.

2 p. m.—Grand parade by the lodges and uniform ranks of Paris and the county at large. Elks Brass Band will furnish music.

Program—Addresses: Prof. W. H. Robinson, Rev. McElroy, Prof. F. M. Wood and Mrs. M. E. Graves. Music

No Increase.

Progress in increasing the assessments of railroads in Kentucky received a death blow Monday when the railroad commission determined to assess the tangible property of the railroads in this state the same as last year. W. F. Blair, of Lexington, and Green Garnett, of Winchester, were in the majority, while Chairman Lawrence Finn, of Franklin, was in the minority in making the assessment.

When the commission meets in Frankfort January 8 to work out the details of the assessment the commissioners will file written opinions showing why they assessed the property of the railroads as they did.
